Our Famous Mock Lab Camp Is Now Available Remotely!

Heart-breaking, suicidal-dangerous, increasing tear production,
"smash-head-on-keyboard-to-continue"- labs, strenuous;
definitely not for the faint-hearted, a cut above the rest.
Hopes and imaginations falling in disillusioned droplets to the floor...

If you thought you were ready for the exam you get your lesson....

Please read here what a <http://www.heinzulm.com/2dwcomment.php>.

This new remote accessibility offers greater convenience while saving you time and the costs associated with travel and accommodations.

Please note the following conditions and benefits carefully:

1. You explicitly agree to confidentially, acceptance and respect of our copyrights
2. Availability is subject to open pods (we do have 21 pods)
3. A day is 24 hours access (though you should try to complete your tasks in 8 hours as in the real exam; the good thing is you can even do your tasks a second time during those 24 hours)
4. You can do/book a 5 day block, or 2 Saturdays, 2 Sundays plus a weekday, either Friday or Monday
5. Manuals and solutions are only provided in printed format. They will be mailed to you after receipt of your payment.
 - Payment must be received by date stated on invoice, usually around 1 week, before your remote access is to begin.
6. Please note that with "remote" mock labs, we do not offer the highly beneficial monitoring, observing, consultancy, or support.
 - Exception: We will include a one hour Skype chat for discussion of solutions, lecturing etc.
7. You agree to erase your pod at the end of your lab. (of course without the terminalserver and FRswitch)
8. The 5 mock labs differ very much from each other, with different quantity and complexity, but all are based on a 8-hour configuration time.
9. The labs fit the newest blueprint; but are actually harder than the real exam and even have new 12.4 features as we are expecting this any time now. See belows graph with the physical setup.

Price:

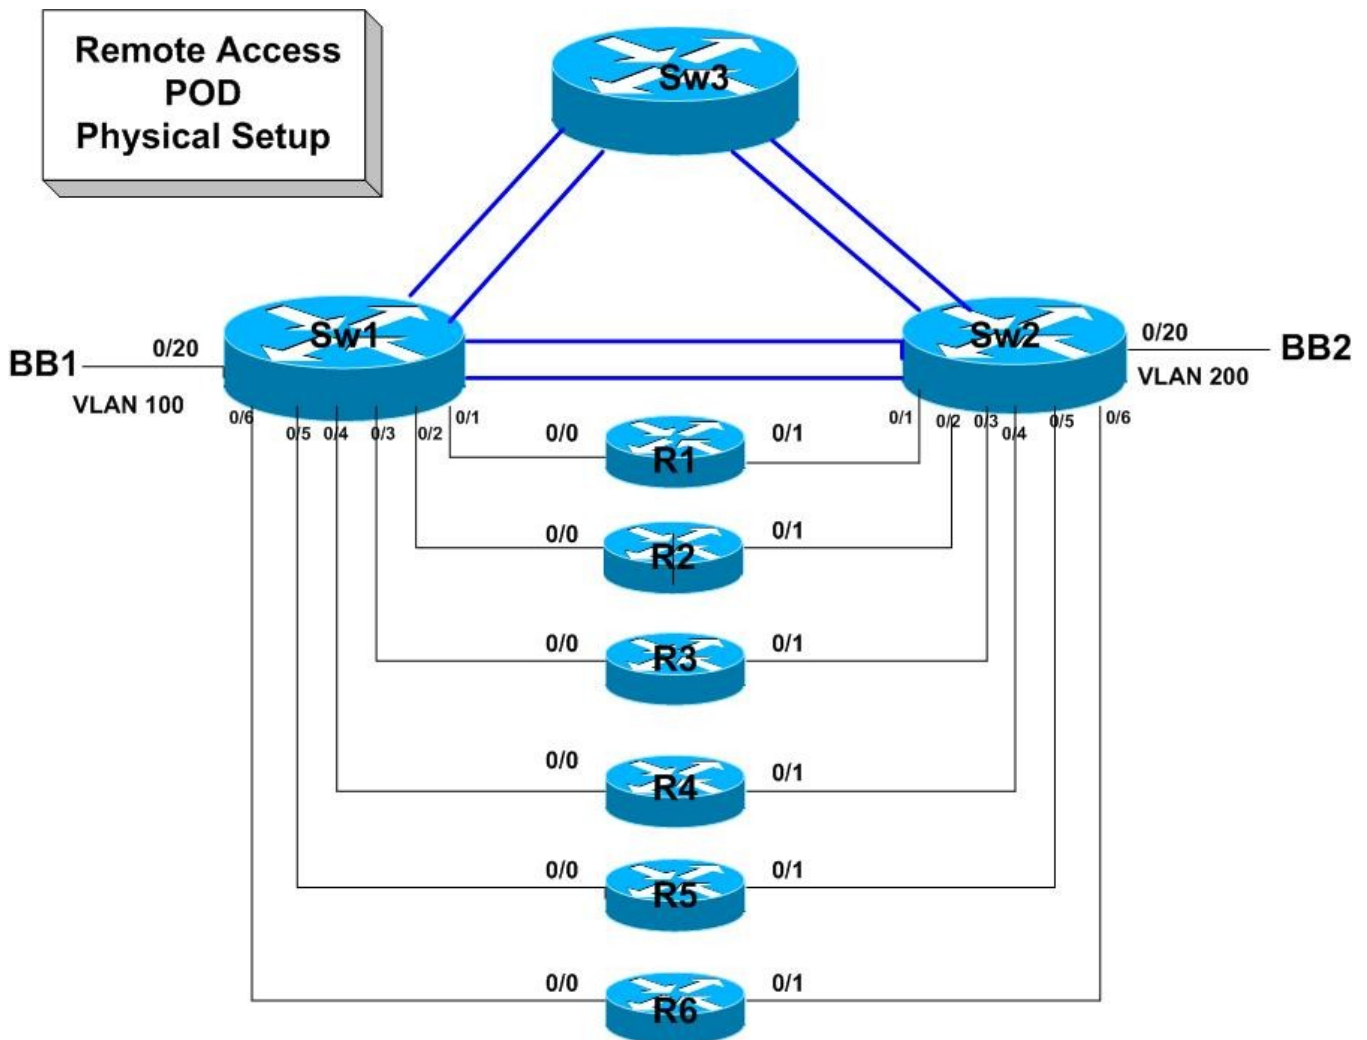

1990 US Dollars for 5 Labs

* = includes 1 hr. of chat with Heinz for answering questions

Shipping of manuals via regular mail is included. Expedited shipping via FedEx, UPS or other special services are extra and depend on country, distance and service requested.

Bookings are subject to availability of pods and are processed on a first come first serve basis.

Only our terms of business apply. Colorado jurisdiction applies. Place of jurisdiction is Denver, CO, USA
Prices, terms and conditions are subject to change without prior notice.

PODs:

- 1 Terminalserver (Cisco 2511)
- 1 Frame Relay Switch (Cisco 2522)
- 3 Cisco 24-port-switches (1x 3550, 2 x 3560)
- 6 Cisco Routers (2811 and 2621 XM; 4 of which have serials to the FRswitch)
- The 2811 have huge memory and 3 different IOSes in Flash

All hardware can be remotely powered on/off

Without your control or access:

- 6 backbone routers playing EGP and IGP speakers
- A 4th 3560 Switch controlled by us
- TFTP/Syslog-server for sending/receiving files and messages
- 2 VPN concentrators for redundant SDSL-access

(Remote access is through Cisco VPN client software and a provided Group-profile)

Real “live” Mock Lab Camp with Heinz Ulm-Instructors Compared to Our Remote Mock Labs:

Live Mock Labs:

- available on certain dates only
- travel time involved
- travel and accommodation expenses involved

Constant monitoring (each keystroke) of students by instructor (using VNC)

Lecturing/discussion/consultancy: hints, tricks, traps, solutions

Assessment by instructor with hints what to focus on

Remote Mock Labs:

- saving travel time
- saving travel, flight and hotel expenses
- can be booked whenever convenient for you

no monitoring, no lecturing, no support (except * see above)

no discounts

Solutions are mailed in sealed envelope

How to proceed:

- a) you let us know for which time you would like to book and give us your mailing address.
- b) we respond with availability (in best case we will send an invoice electronically as pdf)
- c) you transfer the money; after receipt we send your manuals to the address provided
- d) we send VPN settings, passwords, pre-configs and more instructions for the labs the day before the time starts per email.
